

FOUNDATIONS II

3-Day Course

This advanced technical curriculum helps take stylists to the next level in mastering their craft. Students will learn systematic techniques for achieving interior shapes through directional & switch layering as well as spherical & vertical cutting. Students will utilize the core haircutting system taught in Foundations I to it's fullest potential. Upon completion of this course, students will have the technical skills & confidence to create any of today's contemporary cuts. Course will include theory, demonstration & hands-on cutting instruction of a minimum of 5 shapes. Skill level required: Completion of Foundations or similar core technical advanced training.

Artist:

Gerard Annunziato Director, YOU School Academy

Gerard Annunziato entered beauty school with an open mind & by the end of his first day of classes, he was in love with the creativity & potential of the profession. He excelled in technical skills & graduated in the pivotal era when the haircut/blow-dry combination became a trend. His first cuts were '70's shags.

In time, Gerard sought more education & left the chair to train with Vidal Sassoon. Several years later, he had gained additional hairdressing experience with Vidal Sassoon, the Plaza Hotels Salon & Saks Fifth Avenue in New York. Gerard traveled & earned recognition as a platform artist for several major companies. His most notable achievement was back-to-back Gold Cup awards representing the United States at the 1983 and 1984 Festival Mondial in Paris & Cannes, France. Gerard has designed retail centers & led educational programs for several salon enterprises in Florida.

"Gerard's greatest strength is his ability to begin with a general concept & teach it all the way through to the specific details," says Don Bewley, Eufora founder & CEO.

"Learning those details makes the difference between being a good hairdresser & being a great hairdresser."

Gerard now travels between his home in south Florida & San Diego, California, where he is fulfilling a life long dream... Heading up YOU School, Eufora's Advanced Training Academy, dedicated to the advancement of technical, creative & business skills for hairdressers, by Eufora International.
