ARTIST TRACY LARSON

Tracy Larson has been in the salon industry for over 20 years. Her career started in 1986 when she graduated from the prestigious Aveda Institute in Minneapolis, founded by Horst Rechelbacher. Tracy's first salon experience was working for David Wagner, current owner of the JUUT salons. Tracy worked her way up through this organization, after assisting David, to being one of the top stylists & educational trainers for his salons. During Tracy's career she has worked as an educator for several leading manufacturers. Tracy has always maintained the philosophy of continual growth, both professionally & personally, through education. When she is not traveling & teaching she is servicing her won clientele at Salon Sa Bel in Minneapolis, Minnesota, Tracy has managed to find the right balance of work, marriage & motherhood, while maintaining her creative spark that continually drives her to new heights of success.
